COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The auditor has completed his work on 1969 transactions. We should receive a copy of the report within a few weeks. Anyone interested in reading it may do so by coming to the office.

Due to the fact their work load was light and having a report from the Tree Warden that the fir trees were dying, the town crew is cutting wood on the Town Farm. As happens frequently this time of year the men can do very little on the roads. Although we realize very small profits from our woods operations, by having the wood lot at the Town Farm we can keep our crew together until the weather conditions permit their return to their regular duties.

There is to be a special selectmen's meeting tonight (Thursday) after a scheduled hearing with the State Highway Commission on the proposed reconstruction of Route 2 through the Mayville area.

A meeting is scheduled for next Wednesday evening in South Paris for municipal officers to meet with Federal authorities. At such time the possibility of towns receiving aid for flood damage will be discussed.

The polls will be open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. next Monday, March 16, for voting in the special State election concerning the Highway Bond Issue.

SNOW TWISTER PARADE, TRIP, AND SUPPER A SUCCESS

On Saturday, March 7 at 4 p. m. some 100 snowmobiles made their parade up through the center of Bethel. Hundreds of spectators viewed the machines as they roared up Main Street to the Bethel Common and then made a loop back through the village out to Vernon Street.

From there the parade of snowmobile enthusiasts ventured over to Mount Abram Ski Slopes base lodge for a baked bean supper prepared by the Bethel Methodist Church. Others joined the supper by automobile. Over 150 people were served their delicious suppers and then the cash prize was awarded to Danny Kennehan.

After supper the snow machines started back for the completion of the activities.

Everyone seemed to enjoy their trip and the weather was at its best. A special thanks to the constables, police officers and snow crew of Bethel the selectmen of Greenwood for permission to use the Mt. Abram road—the Cross Brothers for use of the lodge and the handful of competent workers who helped prepare and serve the delicious supper.

Mrs. Holly Harrell of Concord, N. H., spent from Wednesday to Sunday with her father and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Loy Harrell.

Penny Fleet spent part of the day Monday with Betsy Clogson.

Several from here joined the Bethel snow-traveler party in a parade and then to Mt. Abram and home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jones and three children of Gorham, Maine, were Sunday callers at R. M. Fleet's.

BEING TORN DOWN — Work was begun during the past week in razing
the former Legion Hall in Bethel.
Below is shown progress of the dismantling as of Wednesday afternoon.

For more than a hundred years this humble structure has been a prominent part of Upper Main Street in Bethel village.

It housed the early years of the Van Tel, and Tel. exchange. The "hello girls" of that era were Alice French, Ida Packard, Sylvia Swan and Mona Martyn. They gave excellent service.

Young's Harness Store was there for years, and displayed a magnificent life size wooden horse, a smart dapple gray with flowing mane and tail. His trappings were a hand sewn russet leather harness, and a yellow sulky. For some 20 years until the early 1940's, this was the location of Allen's Shoe Store.

Behind the red door was the warm and cluttered and indispensable cobbler shop. Here the late Tommy La-Rue, esteemed citizen, patched and cluttered and indispensible cobbler shop. Here the late Tommy La-

For over a score a years, until this past January, the building had been the home of the Mundt-Allen Post No. 81, American Legion.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

STUDENT COUNCILS —
BUBBLE READY TO POP

So far this year there has been one edition of the school newspaper released at Telstar. Everyone seemed to be too busy to work on the paper. Last year's successful "Bridge" had a designated staff of seniors, but this year they were gone and the "Bridge" had no real staff. Creative Writing teacher, Mr. Fiske, volunteered for the job and that was when the lone issue was published. But then the 18-week class ended leaving the paper staffless again.

Now the entire paper has been returned as the "Bubble", a rebuilt "Bridge". With two new co-editors and yet another staff, it is hoped the "Bubble" will become a biweekly occurrence at Telstar. If luck is with us, the paper should be released Friday. Good luck to co-editors Betty Gaugler and Dave Holt and advisor, Mr. Clough!

QUEST LECTURER

Denis Corrin of the Oxford County Mental Health Services spoke to "The Outsider" class in English this week. Students are presently reading "Lion and David", a short story involving youngsters who are mentally ill. Mr. Corrin spoke generally of mental illness and the services provided in Oxford County.

His advice for achieving good mental health is four-fold:

1. Know yourself and be honest to yourself. If you can't accept what you see, seek to change.
2. Respect others and their opinions.
3. Don't focus your life on a single interest or hobby. If your interest is thwarted, then you have nothing left. Have several different interests.
4. Have a sense of humor—it's a release for internal pressure.

When asked at what point a person should seek professional help, Mr. Corrin suggests that if a person is unable to attend to his obligations (work, school, etc.) then he should seek assistance.

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corcoran, The long cold winter is on its way out, calendar wise. Soon she will blow her last.

No doubt it has been grim and bitter for some of the wild creatures, but nature is impartial. The hardest survive then their kind increase to face again another winter strong and well adapted.

We now feel and see some of spring's signs; the sun rises more to the east day after day, its warmth is more noticeable at noon and if snows come they are not as lasting as in mid-January.

The raccoon has already visited us. He pulled down one of my feeders as he so often did last fall. His little foot pattern was left in the snow. The nimble toes are long and narrow otherwise the foot resembles a bear's track in miniature. His talented hands rival the monkey's and his sense of humor is interesting. He doesn't really hibernate. During the cold he naps with his tail curled over his sharp muzzle and black-button nose. A warm spell brings him out.

"Behind that mask of sleepiness, no doubt, Your mind as agile as your dextrous hands, Has menus for tonight to figure out. That utterly beguiling look could mean My garbage may be next to make the scene; Or maybe Towser's dish; and, then again, You may be thinking of my laying hen!" (Helen Ward Gull)

Mrs. Patriot, my red squirrel, now sits with me on the front steps sometimes in my lap as she eats her seeds and sometimes from the steps. That depends on me, for where I place these seeds there she eats then scampers out back to her nest of little ones.

I have three squirrels at this time but only Mrs. P. is friendly. Their sunflower seeds and acorns are treasures to them and a source of pleasure. I have seen them scamper from one to the other as though taking inventory.

March may yet bring us drenching rains, sleet and snow. She may be friendly or exasperating but she brings us nearer to the day of the anemones, blood roots, and violets, where forest lanes are fresh and cool with inviting ferns and grass ringed pool.
